

★ Gracehill - A Tennessee B&B

866-448-3070

Do yourself a favor, and follow these directions, NOT those provided by Map Quest or some GPS Units unless you are a glutton for punishment! This is a trust me factor... The directions on our website are the most accurate coming from any direction. Please print them off. Coming from points west or south they often send you all the way to Knoxville instead of getting you off at the closest exit. Coming from the north they often send you through Pigeon Forge traffic instead of coming via Maryville which can add 2 hours or more onto your time. The directions on my brochure are almost as good as those on my website. The I-40 closure for construction in downtown Knoxville shouldn't affect anyone coming long distance. If you would rather bond with your spouse sitting in traffic using your new GPS, okay. I'll tell you what the sunset looked like when you do arrive. ☺ Confusing? Call 866-448-3070.

From Bristol TN, VA, and points NE of here on I-81 SB:

I-81 SB merges into I-40 WB. Take Exit 407 on Rt. 66, turn left at the top of the ramp. Proceed 8.1 miles into Sevierville, cross over Hwy 411 and the road you are on turns into Hwy 441. Stay on Hwy 441 4.4 miles into Pigeon Forge. At stop light 3 turn right towards Wears Valley and Townsend. Sometimes it pays to go past exit 407 and proceed into Knoxville and approach Townsend from the Maryville side if Pigeon Forge is having a special events weekend or it is a holiday.

From Asheville, NC:

Note: Nov 1st, 2009 for approx two months- there is a rock slide/detour closing I-40 WB in North Carolina between Asheville and the TN state line. Call the innkeeper to find out which of these ways to use. There are several ways you could approach. You could come through Cherokee and up over the mountain on 441 to Hwy 73 for a beautiful scenic drive. Or you take I-40 WB to exit 407 in Sevierville, but traffic can be heavy once you get off the expressway. My favorite is a combination of a little scenery and less traffic (except the 3 miles coming through Gatlinburg) and is usually the fastest. Take I-40WB to the Foothills Parkway exit. Get off at that exit and take it for about 6 miles. It empties out onto Hwy 321 in Cosby. Turn left and go about 1.7 miles and at the stop sign 321 turns right towards Gatlinburg. After about 18 miles 321 hits the main drag in Gatlinburg, a "T" intersection. You want to take a left on Hwy 441 going towards Cherokee. You will have about 3 miles of traffic until just past stop light number 10 you enter the National Park. Ignore the signs that ask you if want to go to Pigeon Forge. After a couple of miles in the park you turn right onto Hwy 73 towards Townsend. You will pass the Visitor Center on the right. Clock off 9.4 miles then turn right into Metacalf Bottoms Picnic area. Cross over the river, and proceed 2.8 miles. You will hit a "T" intersection, Hwy 321 again, turn left and proceed 2.2 miles. As you cross over the county line from Sevier County to Blount County, on your left turn into Little Round Top Rd. Proceed 4/10ths of a mile and turn left at the second left. Proceed 3/10ths of a mile and the road turns into concrete. Come up the concrete another 3/10ths of a mile to the top.
